Queen Elizabeth II's former

childhood residence

InterContinental London Park Lane stands proudly today on the very site of 145 Piccadilly, Queen Elizabeth II's former childhood residence. Historical accounts recall a white terraced building, indistinguishable from those on either side of it. There was a semi-basement kitchen, "like the giant's kitchen in a pantomime with its immense shiny copper pots and great fire-range", Lisa Sheridan.

An extensive garden at the back, shared with other houses, added an element of community. Elizabeth lived in a suite of rooms at the top of the house, consisting of a day nursery, a night nursery and a bathroom linked by a landing, with wide windows looking down on the park. It was not unusual for her nanny to put her in her pram and take a two-hour stroll through Mayfair into Hyde Park.

Royal History at InterContinental London Park Lane

Other stories relating to Elizabeth's childhood at 145 Piccadilly told of the Princess allegedly playing games by fetching a small toy, such as a teddy bear or a ball, and dropping it from the nursery landing down the stairwell onto visitors as they arrived at the house.

The best modern day representation of the late Queen's childhood at 145 Piccadilly can be found in the multiple Oscar-winning film, The King's Speech. Scenes of the young family trying their best to enjoy London life in the heart of Mayfair during the years of the Depression were actually filmed at 33 Portland Place, but the so-called "shabby chic" interiors are said to be in keeping with the style of the house at that time.

145 Piccadilly was to suffer the same fate as many in London during the war, being destroyed in the blitz. Between 1968 and 1975, work began by Sir Frederick Gibberd on the design and construction of the luxury hotel InterContinental London Park Lane, whose other notable designs include Liverpool Metropolitan Cathedral and London Central Mosque in Regent's Park.

The hotel was opened by His Grace the 8th Duke of Wellington, Arthur Wellesley on 23rd September 1975.

Chef Theo Randall blends the best seasonal ingredients with hand-picked Italian imports to create rustic fare unique to the dishes served at eateries across Italian coastal towns.

A selection of antipasti features mouth-watering bites such as our Tagliere di salumi ? a selection of Italian cured meats with agrodolce and tapenade crostini. Summery main courses include insalate, Italian classics and sicilian-style pizza al taglio with a choice of margherita, prosciutto crudo & parmigiano or piccante. End your meal the Italian way with an indulgent sweet treat. Choose from a classic tiramisu, affogato, seasonal sorbet or Theo?s signature gelato.

A tale of two Elizabeths

We invite you to sample the tastes of the two distinguished queens with a delectable array of ?nely crafted sweet delicacies and savoury delights hailing from noble menus of past and present.

As you immerse yourself in the exquisite ?avours and rich history of this afternoon tea, sip on a glass of Veuve Clicquot Champagne, another favourite of Elizabeth II, who granted the house a Royal Warrant.

A regal experience

Dine like a true monarch with desserts such as our rhubarb and champagne syllabub with sablé biscuit, a favourite of the 16th-century Elizabeth, before relishing a rich chocolate biscuit cake inspired by our late queen?s a?nity for the treat.

No afternoon tea is complete without an assortment of savoury sandwiches to balance the sweet pastries, especially our coronation chicken sandwich. This ?avour sensation is our modern interpretation of the 1953 invention served at Elizabeth II?s coronation luncheon.

Each morsel is served on the ?nest Renaissance Gold teaware set by Wedgwood, a Royal Warrant holder, for an authentic regal experience.

Exquisite blends

Tea was more than a social occasion for the two queens, it was a cherished ritual. Elizabeth I, known for her patronage of The East India Company founded in 1600 during her reign, turned tea into an exclusive experience shared with her closest con?dants. Sharing a passion for this formal pleasure, Elizabeth I enjoyed a freshly brewed morning pot of a personalised blend.

Hand-selected by Tea Master, Lalith Lenadora, our new tea menu features over 20 infusions from across the globe, including three exclusively curated blends, such as the Elizabeth II, crafted with rooibos from South Africa, vanilla from Sri Lanka and delicate rose petals as an ode to the Commonwealth.

childhood residence

InterContinental London Park Lane stands proudly today on the very site of 145 Piccadilly, Queen Elizabeth II's former childhood residence. Historical accounts recall a white terraced building, indistinguishable from those on either side of it. There was a semi-basement kitchen, "like the giant's kitchen in a pantomime with its immense shiny copper pots and great fire-range", Lisa Sheridan.

An extensive garden at the back, shared with other houses, added an element of community. Elizabeth lived in a suite of rooms at the top of the house, consisting of a day nursery, a night nursery and a bathroom linked by a landing, with wide windows looking down on the park. It was not unusual for her nanny to put her in her pram and take a two-hour stroll through Mayfair into Hyde Park.

Royal History at InterContinental London Park Lane

Other stories relating to Elizabeth's childhood at 145 Piccadilly told of the Princess allegedly playing games by fetching a small toy, such as a teddy bear or a ball, and dropping it from the nursery landing down the stairwell onto visitors as they arrived at the house.

The best modern day representation of the late Queen's childhood at 145 Piccadilly can be found in the multiple Oscar-winning film, The King's Speech. Scenes of the young family trying their best to enjoy London life in the heart of Mayfair during the years of the Depression were actually filmed at 33 Portland Place, but the so-called 'shabby chic' interiors are said to be in keeping with the style of the house at that time.

145 Piccadilly was to suffer the same fate as many in London during the war, being destroyed in the blitz. Between 1968 and 1975, work began by Sir Frederick Gibberd on the design and construction of the luxury hotel InterContinental London Park Lane, whose other notable designs include Liverpool Metropolitan Cathedral and London Central Mosque in Regent's Park.

The hotel was opened by His Grace the 8th Duke of Wellington, Arthur Wellesley on 23rd September 1975.

CITY LIFE MADE HARMONIOUS

Mayfair Rooms and Suites

The Mayfair Collection is the beautiful realisation of our most luxurious guestrooms and suites yet. It is a further refinement of the timeless elegance for which we are loved. It is a fond reflection of all that is rare about our prized location, where two Royal Parks meet. It is profound and effortless comfort. Wood, leather, pure wool, and marble set the soulful, natural tone. Subtle embroidery and cast bronze interpret the pure beauty of tree and leaf. The Mayfair Collection is city life made harmonious.

Expect bold, authentic Italian flavours and twists on well-loved classics served on bright ceramics from Vietri on the Amalfi Coast. Chef Theo Randall blends the best seasonal ingredients with hand-picked Italian imports to create rustic fare unique to the dishes served at eateries across Italian coastal towns.

A selection of antipasti features mouth-watering bites such as our Tagliere di salumi ? a selection of Italian cured meats with agrodolce and tapenade crostini. Summery main courses include insalate, Italian classics and sicilian-style pizza al taglio with a choice of margherita, prosciutto crudo & parmigiano or piccante. End your meal the Italian way with an indulgent sweet treat. Choose from a classic tiramisu, affogato, seasonal sorbet or Theo?s signature gelato.

A tale of two Elizabeths

From the ?Royal Warrant? Salmon & Caviar Bliss and Monarch?s Coronation Chicken Royale, inspired by Elizabeth II?s famous 1953 coronation dish, to the Elizabeth I Syllabub, a pastry royally adorned with a sable as a nod to the Virgin Queen?s love of these sweet confections, this symbolic spread celebrates the reigns of these two majestic monarchs.

Hand-selected by Tea Master, Lalith Lenadora, our new tea menu features over 20 infusions from across the globe, including three exclusively curated blends, such as the Elizabeth II, crafted with rooibos from South Africa, vanilla from Sri Lanka and delicate rose petals as an ode to the Commonwealth.

OVERLOOKING LONDON'S LANDMARKS

AT THE WELLINGTON LOUNGE

The Wellington Lounge is an ideal meeting place for an early morning coffee and pastries, famed afternoon tea or an all-day-menu featuring classic seasonal dishes.

Standing proudly on the former site of 145 Piccadilly, Queen Elizabeth II's former childhood home, the Wellington Lounge pays respect to its heritage by offering traditional afternoon tea with a modern twist for an experience fit for royalty. Our team has created an extensive menu of teas with the East India Company, complementing the various dishes available. Blending the best of tradition with contemporary twists, the menu presents a style to suit all tastes.

From the 'Royal Warrant' Salmon & Caviar Bliss and Monarch's Coronation Chicken Royale, inspired by Elizabeth II's famous 1953 coronation dish, to the Elizabeth I Syllabub, a pastry royally adorned with a sable as a nod to the Virgin Queen's love of these sweet confections, this symbolic spread celebrates the reigns of these two majestic monarchs.

ELIZABETHAN

ROYAL TEA

Centuries may separate Elizabeth I and Elizabeth II's reigns, yet here, their tales intertwine. Together, their shared love for decadent teas and confections shaped the sophisticated tradition of afternoon tea as we know it.

Indulge in a truly regal afternoon tea experience at the Wellington Lounge, located on the very site of 145 Piccadilly, once Queen Elizabeth II's childhood home. Delight in live music every Thursday through Sunday from 1.30 pm to 5.30 pm.

Planning to celebrate with us? Elevate your afternoon by pre-ordering one of our exquisite celebration cakes.

A tale of two Elizabeths

We invite you to sample the tastes of the two distinguished queens with a delectable array of finely crafted sweet delicacies and savoury delights hailing from noble menus of past and present.

As you immerse yourself in the exquisite flavours and rich history of this afternoon tea, sip on a glass of Veuve Clicquot Champagne, another favourite of Elizabeth II, who granted the house a Royal Warrant.

A regal experience

Dine like a true monarch with desserts such as our rhubarb and champagne syllabub with sablé biscuit, a favourite of the 16th-century Elizabeth, before relishing a rich chocolate biscuit cake inspired by our late queen's affinity for the treat.

No afternoon tea is complete without an assortment of savoury sandwiches to balance the sweet pastries, especially our coronation chicken sandwich. This flavour sensation is our modern interpretation of the 1953 invention served at Elizabeth II's coronation luncheon.

Each morsel is served on the finest Renaissance Gold teaware set by Wedgwood, a Royal Warrant holder, for an authentic regal experience.

Exquisite blends

Tea was more than a social occasion for the two queens, it was a cherished ritual. Elizabeth I, known for her patronage of The East India Company founded in 1600 during her reign, turned tea into an exclusive experience shared with her closest confidants. Sharing a passion for this formal pleasure, Elizabeth I enjoyed a freshly brewed morning pot of a personalised blend.

Hand-selected by Tea Master, Lalith Lenadora, our new tea menu features over 20 infusions from across the globe, including three exclusively curated blends, such as the Elizabeth II, crafted with rooibos from South Africa, vanilla from Sri Lanka and delicate rose petals as an ode to the Commonwealth.

The Wellington Lounge

The Wellington Lounge is an ideal meeting place for an early morning coffee and pastries, famed afternoon tea or an all-day menu featuring classic seasonal dishes.

Quintessentially British Garden Games

for the whole family

We have partnered with Jaques of London, one of the world's oldest luxury toymakers (est. 1795) to create a quintessentially British Garden Games experience.

Available complimentary to everyone staying at InterContinental London Park Lane, our Garden Games can be enjoyed in two of the city's most iconic Royal Parks, Green Park and Hyde Park, which are just a stone's throw away.

Web Scraped Data

Choose from croquet, badminton, giant tumble towers, quoits or rounders, and soak up the atmosphere of summer afternoons in Mayfair. Our Concierge team have been trained by British garden games expert, Martin Dock, following the original Jaques of London rule book, and they will be on hand to assist you with any questions or queries.

The Best of British hamper

To make your experience even more enjoyable, we have introduced the Best of British hamper. The picnic fit for an afternoon in the Royal Parks includes: charcuterie, British cheeses, sandwiches, smoked cheddar and pea quiche, sausage rolls, pork pies, vegetable crudités with hummus, and a selection of salads. Classic Battenberg, chocolate brownies and cheesecake will end your day on a suitably sweet note.

The Best of British hamper is available from £50 per person or with a bottle of Ruinart Champagne at £110.

The Garden Games experience is bookable via our Concierge Team.

Subject to your account and privacy settings, we may also be able to see information that you post when using these social media platforms whether or not you are using one of our services. In some instances, depending on the circumstances, we may contact you on these social media platforms. The information you post on social media sites as well as the controls surrounding these disclosures are governed by the respective policies of the social media site where you posted.

Information We Collect Automatically:

We and our service providers use cookies, pixels, web beacons, tracking tools and other similar technologies on our website to collect information and provide you with the services that you have requested or participate in and to provide targeted advertising. Subject to local consent requirements, we may use this and other information we collect, such as a hashed email address, to help us and our service providers identify other devices that you use (e.g., a mobile phone, tablet, other computer, etc.). We, and our service providers, also may use the cross-device tracking and other information we learn about you to serve targeted advertising on your devices. We also use the information that we collect to improve our products and services as well as your experience when visiting our websites. Please see Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies below for additional
